

Building Power Together: The Election & Beyond

Every election season shapes more than who gets elected. It shapes whose voices are heard, whose experiences are valued, and what communities believe is possible. Rather than letting harmful narratives define the conversation, we'll make our values visible through stories, relationships, media, and public engagement while building the community support we'll need long after Election Day. We aim to:

- Respond to harmful narratives about poverty by making our values visible.
- Build stronger local advocacy communities that will help influence the next Congress.

Campaign at a glance (see more at: <https://results.org/2026-campaign>)

Month	Goal	CHOOSE YOUR ACTION(S)
August Connect	Build your foundation	☐ Plan your fall ☐ Meet with your members of Congress in district and candidates running for office ☐ Connect with new volunteers and/or potential local partners (food banks, local universities, community organizers and activists)
September Grow	Expand your community	☐ Invite your networks into action ☐ Strengthen partnerships ☐ Reconnect with people who previously expressed interest in RESULTS
October Amplify	Make our values visible	☐ Write media ☐ Attend candidate and community events ☐ Share stories and engage publicly
November Sustain	Keep the momentum going	☐ Invite people to November 19 RESULTS Post-Election Webinar ☐ Follow up with partners and candidates ☐ Meet as a group to prepare for the new Congress

To get started, meet with your group and complete the August/September Action Sheet.

Each month, instead of asking, "What's the next action?" Ask: Who else can we invite? What relationship can we strengthen? How can this action make our values visible?

Use the Narrative Shield (coming soon!) to help frame conversations around shared values.
