

You're invited to a

Policy Briefing

Promoting the Security of America's Working Families: A Review of the EITC's Value and Discussion of 2012 Policy Implications

WHEN:	Thursday, January 26, 2012 10:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.
WHERE:	121 Cannon House Office Building Washington, D.C.

Please join the National Community Tax Coalition and partners in a discussion regarding:

- ❖ How the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) and similar tax credits encourage the work of low- and moderate-income families, provide an economic boost to local communities, and must be kept strong
- ❖ A new report highlighting the successes of the EITC, which draws upon recent significant research and provides policy recommendations for improvements in 2012 and beyond

Speakers will include:

Jana Barresi, Manager of Federal Government Relations, Wal-Mart

Jackie Lynn Coleman, Executive Director, National Community Tax Coalition

Sara Johnson, Director, Baltimore CASH Campaign

Verlinda Paul, Director, IRS Earned Income Tax Credit Program

David Rothstein, Research Fellow, New America Foundation; Project Director, Policy Matters Ohio

Co-sponsored by:

Please RSVP to either:

Gail Parson
gparson@tax-coalition.org
(312) 346-6282 ext. 297

Jennifer Thall
jthall@tax-coalition.org
(312) 346-6282 ext. 270